Delaware 2015 CFSR Final Report

Final Report: Delaware Child and Family Services Review Report Re-Issued: 2017

INTRODUCTION

This document presents the findings of the Child and Family Services Review (CFSR) for the State of Delaware.¹ The CFSRs enable the Children's Bureau to: (1) ensure conformity with certain federal child welfare requirements; (2) determine what is actually happening to children and families as they are engaged in child welfare services; and (3) assist states in enhancing their capacity to help children and families achieve positive outcomes. Federal law and regulations authorize the Children's Bureau, within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Administration for Children and Families, to administer the review of child and family services programs under titles IV-B and IV-E of the Social Security Act. The CFSRs are structured to help states identify strengths and areas needing improvement in their child welfare practices and programs as well as institute systemic changes that will improve child and family outcomes.

The findings for Delaware are based on:

- The statewide assessment prepared by the Delaware Department of Services for Children, Youth and their Families (DSCYF), and submitted to the Children's Bureau on March 17, 2015. The statewide assessment is the state's analysis of its performance on outcomes, and the functioning of systemic factors in relation to title IV-B and IV-E requirements and the title IV-B Child and Family Services Plan
- The results of case reviews of 86 cases (52 foster care and 34 in-home) conducted via a "State Conducted Case Review" process at Kent, New Castle, and Sussex counties, Delaware, between April 1, 2015, and July 24, 2015
- Interviews and focus groups with state stakeholders and partners, which included:
 - Attorneys
 - Child welfare caseworkers and supervisors and contract caseworkers and supervisors
 - Child welfare program managers, program administrators, and the state child welfare director
 - Foster and adoptive parents
 - Law enforcement representatives
 - Information system staff
 - Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children (ICPC) staff

¹ The Children's Bureau suspended the use of the state's performance on the national standards for the 7 statewide data indicators in conformity decisions. This re-issued report does not contain changes to the case review and systemic factor functioning results issued in the prior version of the state's Final Report.

In Round 3, the Children's Bureau suspended the use of the state's performance on national standards for the 7 statewide data indicators in conformity decisions. For contextual information, Appendix A of this report shows the state's performance on the 7 data indicators. Moving forward, the Children's Bureau will refer to the national standards as "national performance." This national performance represents the performance of the nation on the statewide data indicators for an earlier point in time. For the time periods used to calculate the national performance for each indicator, see 80 Fed. Reg. 27263 (May 13, 2015). As a result, Delaware's Final Report is being reissued (see footnote 1).

Background Information

The Round 3 CFSR assesses state performance with regard to substantial conformity with 7 child and family outcomes and 7 systemic factors. Each outcome incorporates one or more of the 18 items included in the case review, and each item is rated as a Strength or Area Needing Improvement based on an evaluation of certain child welfare practices and processes in the cases reviewed in the state. With two exceptions, an item is assigned an overall rating of Strength if 90% or more of the applicable cases reviewed were rated as a Strength on that item. Because Item 1 is the only item for Safety Outcome 1 and Item 16 is the only item for Well-Being Outcome 2, the requirement of a 95% Strength rating applies to those items. For a state to be in substantial conformity with a particular outcome, 95% or more of the cases reviewed must be rated as having substantially achieved the outcome.

Eighteen items are considered in assessing the state's substantial conformity with the 7 systemic factors. Each item reflects a key federal program requirement relevant to the Child and Family Services Plan (CFSP) for that systemic factor. An item is rated as a Strength or an Area Needing Improvement based on how well the item-specific requirement is functioning. A determination of the rating is based on information provided by the state to demonstrate the functioning of the systemic factor in the statewide assessment and, as needed, from interviews with stakeholders and partners. For a state to be in substantial conformity with the systemic factors, no more than 1 of the items associated with the systemic factor can be rated as an Area Needing Improvement. For systemic factors that have only 1 item associated with them, that item must be rated as a Strength for a determination of substantial conformity.

Delaware 2015 CFSR Final Report

The Children's Bureau made several changes to the CFSR process and items and indicators relevant for performance based on lessons learned during the second round of reviews and in response to feedback from the child welfare field. As such, a state's performance in the third round of the CFSRs is not directly comparable to its performance in the second round. Appendix A provides tables presenting Delaware's overall performance in Round 3. Appendix B provides information about Delaware's performance in Round 2.

I. SUMMARY OF PERFORMANCE

Delaware 2015 CFSR Assessment of Substantial Conformity for Outcomes and Systemic Factors

The following 1 of 7 outcomes was found to be in substantial conformity.

- Well-Being Outcome 2: Children receive appropriate services to meet their educational needs

The following 3 of 7 systemic factors were found to be in substantial conformity:

- Statewide Information System
- Agency Responsiveness to the Community
- Foster and Adoptive Parent Licensing, Recruitment, and Retention

Children's Bureau Comments on Delaware Performance

The following are the Children's Bureau's observations about cross-cutting issues and Delaware's overall performance:

As reported in the statewide assessment, Delaware partnered with the Annie E. Casey Foundation to examine the state's child welfare practice and identify areas for improvement, resulting in the system transformation initiative Outcomes Matter. The state also contracted with the Children's Research Center (CRC) of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency to implement structured decision making[®] (SDM). The Division of Family Services (DFS) enacted an array of strategies under the umbrella of Outcomes Matter, including the incorporation of Safety Organized Practice (SOP), team decision making (TDM) and SDM assessments, with the goal of increasing the skills of staff and enhancing practice. A differential response system, Family Assessment and Intervention Response (FAIR), was also developed and implemented. DFS trained caseworkers, supervisors, and agency leadership from DFS and DFS's differential response partner agency, Children and Families First (CFF), in these methods and techniques. DFS also arranged for training in facilitative supervision and for additional coaching for DFS and DFS provider supervisors.

The results of the cases reviewed from April 2015 through July 2015 suggests that the state's strategies had the most positive impact at the time of case opening, in foster care cases, and in the engagement of children and foster parents. However, the engagement of parents, particularly fathers, and ongoing positive practice in treatment (in-home) cases, remain challenges. We encourage the state to examine to what extent these results reflect the variation in the fidelity to implementation of the Outcomes Matter strategies in these areas and what additional improvements in practice may be anticipated as DFS continues with full implementation of the Outcomes Matter strategies.

Delaware 2015 CFSSR Final Report

The Children's Bureau saw positive results on safety outcomes, specifically on the provision of services to protect children in their homes and prevent removal because of accurate assessments of risk and safety. We think it will be important for the state to determine whether the increased accuracy in safety and risk assessments, an improvement in practice since the 2007 CFSSR, may be attributed to the implementation of SDM in determining the referral path, and an understanding of the related practice principles.

While DFS continues to fully implement strategies to engage parents, this review indicated that child and family involvement in case planning continues to be a challenge. However, key participants interviewed, including parents and youth, reported that parents have been more actively involved in case planning because of the TDM process. Results of cases reviewed showed that the agency is more effective in engaging parents of children in foster care than parents in in-home cases. In foster care cases, caseworkers are more likely to involve parents in case planning and to have visits that are of sufficient frequency and quality to achieve case goals and to address the reasons for agency involvement.

Results of case reviews showed that there was a difference in the engagement of mothers and fathers. For both foster care and in-home cases, caseworkers were more likely to visit with mothers and more likely to involve mothers in case planning. The state may want to consider whether the staged implementation of TDMs throughout the period under review accounts for this difference. In addition, the use of TDMs for in-home cases, and the engagement of fathers and non-custodial parents, should be specifically considered for training and supervision purposes.

Improvements in practice that support stable placements for children in foster care are having a positive effect on permanency and well-being outcomes. The agency's practices that support placement stability include ensuring that an appropriate setting is initially selected for the child, and that services that meet the identified needs of foster parents during a child's placement are provided. Interviews with foster and adoptive parents, however, identified that improvements were needed because of inconsistency in the quality of foster and adoptive training. Delaware was determined to be fully functioning in the systemic factor area of foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention because of the consistency of licensing staff and focused efforts in diligent recruitment.

DFS was also found to be effective in identifying and preserving the important connections in a child's life at the time the child entered foster care. Here, case reviews identified that foster parents played an important function in maintaining a child's connection to neighborhood, friends, church, and other activities. Expanded efforts to select an initial foster care setting that best meets the needs of a child; to recruit, train, and support foster parents; and to encourage the role of foster parents in preserving the connections of the children in their care are needed.

Delaware reported in its statewide assessment that across the state, Family Court convenes frequent permanency hearings. The case review results confirmed that permanency hearings typically occurred every 3 to 6 months. Key participants interviewed also reported that regular, timely periodic reviews and permanency hearings are held for children in foster care. However, in Delaware, only the court formally establishes the child's permanency goal. Although caseworkers may determine that a goal change is appropriate, it was not clear that concerted efforts are consistently made toward achieving the new goal before the permanency hearing that sanctions the change. Key partners interviewed reported that several weeks or months may elapse before the recommended goal change is formally established. As DFS leadership strives to further strengthen its partnership with the Family

Court and the court improvement program, the agency is encouraged to jointly consider policies that may at times be affecting efforts to achieve permanency for children in foster care.

Under its current leadership, DFS has engaged in a positive, collaborative child-serving network of state agencies, private providers, courts, and agencies administering other federal programs. This open partnership includes a sharing of resources and opportunity for input into the Child and Family Services Plan (CFSP) and updates. Representatives of this network that were interviewed shared their positive engagement by the agency. Key partners, however, reported systemic challenges to engaging parents, foster parents, and DFS staff in different roles of the agency in this process. More intentional and meaningful parental, resource parent, and staff engagement in the CFSP process would provide a critical perspective on the needs of children and families served by DFS and on the functioning of the agency. We encourage Delaware to work better with these groups to understand the gaps in service array and develop a more strongly functioning system that will meet all of the families' needs.

Delaware designed and implemented a case review process in preparation for the CFSR, but had not intended for that process to replace its former quality assurance system. As reported in the statewide assessment and in interviews with key participants, that prior process lacked several elements of a fully functioning quality assurance system. Only a review of the agency's record in the state's Family and Child Tracking System was conducted. Key case participants with knowledge of the agency's service to the family, including the parents, age-appropriate children, and caseworkers, were not interviewed. There were no established standards to evaluate the quality of service delivery in the state. DFS did not consistently produce relevant reports, and there were no procedures to systematically use results to develop program improvement measures and evaluate the impact of those efforts. Additionally, the state had suspended the review of open treatment (in-home) and permanency cases; only investigation cases were reviewed on an ongoing basis. DFS made significant gains in its design of an effective case review system for the purpose of the CFSR. We encourage the state to consider sustaining these efforts as part of the development of a more robust continuous quality improvement system.

II. KEY FINDINGS RELATED TO OUTCOMES

For each outcome, we provide performance summaries from the case review findings. The CFSR relies upon a case review of an approved sample of foster care cases and in-home services cases. Delaware provides an alternative/differential response to, in addition to a traditional investigation of, incoming reports of child maltreatment or children in need of services. Where relevant, we provide performance summaries that are differentiated between foster care, in-home services, and in-home services alternative/differential response cases.

This report provides an overview. Results have been rounded to the nearest whole number. Details on each case rating are available to DSCYF. The state is encouraged to conduct additional item-specific analysis of the case review findings to better understand areas of practice that are associated with positive outcomes and those that need improvement.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 18 because 91% of the 58 applicable cases were rated as a Strength.
- Item 18 was rated as a Strength in 91% of the 43 applicable foster care cases, 92% of the 12 applicable in-home services cases, and 100% of the 3 applicable in-home services alternative/differential response cases.

III. KEY FINDINGS RELATED TO SYSTEMIC FACTORS

For each systemic factor below, we provide performance summaries and a determination of whether the state is in substantial conformity with that systemic factor. In addition, we provide ratings for each item and a description of how the rating was determined. The CFSR relies upon a review of information contained in the statewide assessment to assess each item. If an item rating cannot be determined from the information contained in the statewide assessment, the Children's Bureau conducts stakeholder interviews and considers information gathered through the interviews in determining ratings for each item.

Statewide Information System

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Item 19.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Delaware is in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Statewide Information System. The one item in this systemic factor was rated as a Strength.

Statewide Information System Item Performance

Item 19. Statewide Information System

The statewide information system is functioning statewide to ensure that, at a minimum, the state can readily identify the status, demographic characteristics, location, and goals for the placement of every child who is (or, within the immediately preceding 12 months, has been) in foster care.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 19 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware provided information on its data integrity process for conducting case reviews that included a review of the required information and distribution of reports to supervisors for verification. Additional information received from stakeholders during stakeholder interviews revealed that Delaware's information system was current and accurate.

Case Review System

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 20, 21, 22, 23, and 24.

Delaware 2015 CFSR Final Report

State Systemic Factor Performance

Delaware is not in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Case Review System. Three of the 5 items in this systemic factor were rated as a Strength.

Case Review System Item Performance

Item 20. Written Case Plan

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning statewide to ensure that each child has a written case plan that is developed jointly with the child's parent(s) and includes the required provisions.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 20 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware provided recent data showing that case plans were in place in 85% of cases and that mothers were involved in case planning 77% of the time and fathers were involved in case planning 71% of the time. Additional information received from stakeholders during stakeholder interviews indicated that the case planning process is routinely functioning to involve the active participation of parents in the development of case plans for children in foster care.

Item 21. Periodic Reviews

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning statewide to ensure that a periodic review for each child occurs no less frequently than once every 6 months, either by a court or by administrative review.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 21 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware provided information from a recent time period on the number of periodic reviews held. Information received from stakeholders during stakeholder interviews confirmed that periodic reviews routinely occur statewide at least every 6 months, and in many cases every 3 months, either by the courts, the Child Placement Review Board, or Permanency Planning Committee. Stakeholders also reported that the periodic reviews cover the required elements.

Item 22. Permanency Hearings

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning statewide to ensure that each child has a permanency hearing in a qualified court or administrative body that occurs no later than 12 months from the date the child entered foster care and no less frequently than every 12 months thereafter.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 22 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.

Delaware 2015 CFSSR Final Report

- Information in the statewide assessment and collected through stakeholder interviews indicated that initial and subsequent permanency hearings addressing the required elements occur routinely every 12 months for children in foster care, and often more frequently. When court continuances do occur, they do not affect the timeliness of permanency hearings. Stakeholders clarified that the Court Improvement Project (CIP) data from 2014 cited in the statewide assessment, showing that children's initial permanency hearings were timely 72% of the time, was for a cohort of older children and not all children, and that since that time, the state has improved performance to ensure that permanency hearings are timely and functioning as required.

Item 23. Termination of Parental Rights

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning statewide to ensure that the filing of termination of parental rights proceedings occurs in accordance with required provisions.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 23 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware reported that although it has a report for tracking the timelines for termination of parental rights, a forum (permanency placement committee meeting) for discussing the need to file for termination of parental rights, and a process for caseworkers to notify the agency attorney of a change in plan goal, the requirement to file a petition for termination of parental rights is not routinely met. Recent data from the agency indicated that termination of parental rights petitions were filed timely in 62% of the applicable cases. Data from the CIP indicated that filings were timely in 79% of a sample of cases and that some cases within the sample had exceptions to filing noted. Stakeholders clarified that there was not a consistent statewide process for tracking the need to file termination of parental rights timely or an established process for documenting compelling reasons not to file.

Item 24. Notice of Hearings and Reviews to Caregivers

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning to ensure that foster parents, pre-adoptive parents, and relative caregivers of children in foster care are notified of, and have a right to be heard in, any review or hearing held with respect to the child.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 24. Findings were determined based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware described the process caseworkers used to give the Deputy Attorney General and Child Placement Review Board administrative office the lists of the resource parents who should be notified of upcoming reviews and hearings. The statewide assessment also provided information from foster parent focus groups indicating that foster parents were more commonly notified of reviews and hearings directly by their caseworkers. During stakeholder interviews, stakeholders clarified that caretakers are often notified of reviews and hearings but there is variation in how this occurs. Stakeholders stated that caregivers are not consistently informed of their right to be heard.

Delaware 2015 CFSR Final Report

Quality Assurance System

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Item 25.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Delaware is not in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Quality Assurance System. The one item in this systemic factor was rated as an Area Needing Improvement.

Quality Assurance System Item Performance

Item 25. Quality Assurance System

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The quality assurance system is functioning statewide to ensure that it is (1) operating in the jurisdictions where the services included in the Child and Family Services Plan (CFSP) are provided, (2) has standards to evaluate the quality of services (including standards to ensure that children in foster care are provided quality services that protect their health and safety), (3) identifies strengths and needs of the service delivery system, (4) provides relevant reports, and (5) evaluates implemented program improvement measures.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 25 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information in the statewide assessment and collected through stakeholder interviews indicated that the state has implemented a case review process to support qualitative information on strengths and needs of services in preparation for Round 3 of the CFSR but had not intended for that process to replace its former quality assurance system. That prior case review process is missing several elements of a quality assurance system. Delaware has not implemented established standards to evaluate the quality of service in the state, and the state does not produce relevant reports. Delaware is not operating a process to evaluate planned program improvement measures. Before Round 3 of the CFSR, the state had suspended the review of open treatment and permanency cases; only investigation cases were reviewed on an ongoing basis.

Staff and Provider Training

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 26, 27, and 28.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Delaware is not in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Staff and Provider Training. One of the items in this systemic factor was rated as a Strength.

Delaware 2015 CFSR Final Report

Staff and Provider Training Item Performance

Item 26. Initial Staff Training

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The staff and provider training system is functioning statewide to ensure that initial training is provided to all staff who deliver services pursuant to the CFSP that includes the basic skills and knowledge required for their positions.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 26 based on information from the statewide assessment.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware provided information showing that pre-service core training is offered on a monthly basis and is attended by new workers, supervisors, managers, and in-home service providers. New workers must complete initial training within 6 months. Supervisors track and verify attendance. In addition, new workers are consistently shadowed and mentored. Evaluations of pre-service core training show that participants indicate that the training provides them with the skills needed to do their jobs.

Item 27. Ongoing Staff Training

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The staff and provider training system is functioning statewide to ensure that ongoing training is provided for staff⁸ that addresses the skills and knowledge base needed to carry out their duties with regard to the services included in the CFSP.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 27 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information in the statewide assessment and collected through stakeholder interviews indicated that agency staff were required to obtain 18 hours of job-related training annually and that private agency staff were required to obtain 40 hours of job-related training annually. General supervisory training is available through a supervisory development certificate program. During interviews, stakeholders clarified that worker and staff training was tracked regularly, and training on the state's new safety practice model was provided monthly. However, key elements of this systemic factor are not routinely functioning. There are no ongoing training requirements or trainings designed specifically for child welfare supervisors and the skills needed to supervise in a child welfare setting.

⁸ "Staff," for purposes of assessing this item, includes all contracted and non-contracted staff who have case management responsibilities in the areas of child protection services, family preservation and support services, foster care services, adoption services, and independent living services pursuant to the state's CFSP. "Staff" also includes direct supervisors of all contracted and non-contracted staff who have case management responsibilities in the areas of child protection services, family preservation and support services, foster care services, adoption services, and independent living services pursuant to the state's CFSP.

Delaware 2015 CFSR Final Report

Item 28. Foster and Adoptive Parent Training

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The staff and provider training system is functioning statewide to ensure that training is occurring statewide for current or prospective foster parents, adoptive parents, and staff of state licensed or approved facilities (that care for children receiving foster care or adoption assistance under title IV-E) that addresses the skills and knowledge base needed to carry out their duties with regard to foster and adopted children.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 28 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware provided information stating that resource parents approved by DSCYF must attend 30 hours of pre-service training. Pre-service training requirements for families licensed by private agencies are in flux because new regulations are being promulgated to align DSCYF requirements. During interviews, stakeholders reported that the state's licensing division monitors initial and ongoing training required for staff of residential facilities. Stakeholders said that there was variation in the availability of quality training for private agency foster and adoptive parents and noted that training on caring for children with behavioral challenges was needed.

Service Array and Resource Development

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 29 and 30.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Delaware is not in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Service Array and Resource Development. None of the items in this systemic factor were rated as a Strength.

Service Array and Resource Development Item Performance

Item 29. Array of Services

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The service array and resource development system is functioning to ensure that the following array of services is accessible in all political jurisdictions covered by the CFSP: (1) services that assess the strengths and needs of children and families and determine other service needs, (2) services that address the needs of families in addition to individual children in order to create a safe home environment, (3) services that enable children to remain safely with their parents when reasonable, and (4) services that help children in foster and adoptive placements achieve permanency.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 29 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information in the statewide assessment and collected through stakeholder interviews indicated that although a number of services are available in the state, these services are not sufficient to meet the needs of children and families. Notable gaps in services include functional family therapy, pre-school and after-school programs, transportation, quality mental health services for children, and affordable housing. Information collected indicated that gaps were more prevalent in the southern part of the state, noting that the waiting list for mental health services was 8 to 12 weeks.

Item 30. Individualizing Services

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The service array and resource development system is functioning statewide to ensure that the services in Item 29 can be individualized to meet the unique needs of children and families served by the agency.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 30 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware described its ability to individualize services through DSCYF's flexible spending accounts. Delaware discussed its enhanced ability to understand families' service needs after the adoption of the Structured Decision Making (SDM) Child and Family Strengths and Needs Assessment and the use of a screening and consultation unit that provides recommendations for the development of children's case plans. Delaware was unable to demonstrate that these were functioning statewide. During interviews, stakeholders reported challenges in accessing flexible funding for in-home services cases, insufficient support for individualizing services, and challenges in servicing non-English-speaking families.

Agency Responsiveness to the Community

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 31 and 32.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Delaware is in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Agency Responsiveness to the Community. One item in this systemic factor was rated as a Strength.

Agency Responsiveness to the Community Item Performance

Item 31. State Engagement and Consultation With Stakeholders Pursuant to CFSP and APSR

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The agency responsiveness to the community system is functioning statewide to ensure that, in implementing the provisions of the CFSP and developing related Annual Progress and Services Reports (APSRs), the state engages in ongoing consultation with Tribal representatives, consumers, service providers, foster care providers, the juvenile court, and other public and private child- and family-serving agencies and includes the major concerns of these representatives in the goals, objectives, and annual updates of the CFSP.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 31 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.

Delaware 2015 CFSR Final Report

- In the statewide assessment, Delaware provided information describing its consulting with and engaging the Division of Youth Rehabilitative Services, the Division of Prevention and Behavioral Health Services, the Family Court, the CIP, and community service agencies in the development of the CFSP. However, during interviews, stakeholders reported systemic challenges in engaging minorities, birth parents, foster parents, and internal staff.

Item 32. Coordination of CFSP Services With Other Federal Programs

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The agency responsiveness to the community system is functioning statewide to ensure that the state's services under the CFSP are coordinated with services or benefits of other federal or federally assisted programs serving the same population.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 32 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware provided information demonstrating that its services under the CFSP are functioning to support coordinated services and benefits with other federal or federally assisted programs serving the same populations. Delaware noted memoranda of agreement (MOA) with education, law enforcement, Division of Developmental Disabilities, substance abuse, mental health, the courts, child support enforcement, and others. During interviews, stakeholders shared that these efforts to coordinate services resulted in greater access to services for families.

Foster and Adoptive Parent Licensing, Recruitment, and Retention

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 33, 34, 35, and 36.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Delaware is in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Foster and Adoptive Parent Licensing, Recruitment, and Retention. Three of the four items in this systemic factor were rated as a Strength.

Foster and Adoptive Parent Licensing, Recruitment, and Retention Item Performance

Item 33. Standards Applied Equally

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention system is functioning statewide to ensure that state standards are applied to all licensed or approved foster family homes or child care institutions receiving title IV-B or IV-E funds.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 33 based on information from the stakeholder interviews.

Delaware 2015 CFSR Final Report

- During interviews, stakeholders provided information describing how this item is routinely functioning statewide to ensure that state standards are applied to all licensed or approved foster family homes or child care institutions receiving title IV-B or IV-E funds. The state has 12 licensing specialists who ensure consistency and compliance with the state's standards.

Item 34. Requirements for Criminal Background Checks

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention system is functioning statewide to ensure that the state complies with federal requirements for criminal background clearances as related to licensing or approving foster care and adoptive placements and has in place a case planning process that includes provisions for addressing the safety of foster care and adoptive placements for children.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 34 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware provided data suggesting that fingerprint background checks were conducted for prospective resource families. During interviews, stakeholders confirmed that all resource families and facility staff routinely undergo criminal record checks. Information collected also revealed that subsequent arrest information is immediately provided to the agency, where it is reviewed and acted upon. The annual re-approval of foster homes also ensures that homes continue to meet safety requirements for ongoing planning purposes.

Item 35. Diligent Recruitment of Foster and Adoptive Homes

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention system is functioning to ensure that the process for ensuring the diligent recruitment of potential foster and adoptive families who reflect the ethnic and racial diversity of children in the state for whom foster and adoptive homes are needed is occurring statewide.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Strength for Item 35 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information in the statewide assessment and collected through stakeholder interviews indicated that the state routinely uses data to guide its recruitment efforts and has successfully recruited resource families to match the race and ethnicity of children in need of care. Delaware has institutionalized recruitment efforts by employing a full-time statewide recruiter in addition to local coordinators. The state continuously adjusts its recruitment plans using monthly reports of child demographics. The state has successfully used partnerships with faith-based organizations in diligent recruitment. The state is providing focused recruitment efforts for those families willing to provide care to the populations the state has determined to be most in need, specifically older youth, sibling groups, and children with special needs.

Delaware 2015 CFSR Final Report

Item 36. State Use of Cross-Jurisdictional Resources for Permanent Placements

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention system is functioning to ensure that the process for ensuring the effective use of cross-jurisdictional resources to facilitate timely adoptive or permanent placements for waiting children is occurring statewide.

- Delaware received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 36 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- In the statewide assessment, Delaware reported that in a recent year there was a timely response to ICPC requests 89% of the time and that the state uses the ICPC to request placements for children in other states. Delaware also reported that it uses local and national adoption exchanges to recruit adoptive families. However, there was no additional information in the statewide assessment or obtained during stakeholder interviews that could demonstrate that the state was effective in using cross-jurisdictional resources to facilitate timely permanency for children statewide.

II. Ratings for Systemic Factors

The Children’s Bureau determines whether a state is in substantial conformity with federal requirements for the 7 systemic factors based on the level of functioning of each systemic factor across the state. The Children’s Bureau determines substantial conformity with the systemic factors based on ratings for the item or items within each factor. Performance on 5 of the 7 systemic factors is determined on the basis of ratings for multiple items or plan requirements. For a state to be found in substantial conformity with these systemic factors, the Children’s Bureau must find that no more than 1 of the required items for that systemic factor fails to function as required. For a state to be found in substantial conformity with the 2 systemic factors that are determined based on the rating of a single item, the Children’s Bureau must find that the item is functioning as required.

III. Performance on Statewide Data Indicators⁹

The state's performance is considered against the national performance for each statewide data indicator and provides contextual information for considering the findings. This information is not used in conformity decisions. State performance may be statistically above, below, or no different than the national performance. If a state did not provide the required data or did not meet the applicable item data quality limits, the Children's Bureau did not calculate the state's performance for the statewide data indicator.

Statewide Data Indicator	National Performance	Direction of Desired Performance	RSP*	95% Confidence Interval	Data Period(s) Used for State Performance
Recurrence of maltreatment	9.1%	Lower	4.8%	4%–5.9%	FY 12–13
Maltreatment in foster care (victimizations per 100,000 days in care)	8.50	Lower	10.38	6.76–15.94	13A–13B FY13
Permanency in 12 months for children entering foster care	40.5%	Higher	41.6%	37.2%–46.1%	11B–14A
Permanency in 12 months for children in foster care 12- 23 months	43.6%	Higher	40.7%	34.9%–46.6%	13B–14A
Permanency in 12 months for children in foster care 24 months or more	30.3%	Higher	31.1%	25.7%–37%	13B–14A
Re-entry to foster care in 12 months	8.3%	Lower	4.6%	2.6%–7.9%	11B–14A
Placement stability (moves per 1,000 days in care)	4.12	Lower	4.17	3.68–4.73	13B–14A

⁹ In October 2016, the Children's Bureau issued Technical Bulletin #9 (<http://www.acf.hhs.gov/cb/resource/cfsr-technical-bulletin-9>), which alerted states to the fact that there were technical errors in the syntax used to calculate the national and state performance for the statewide data indicators. The syntax revision is still underway, so performance shown in this table is based on the 2015 Federal Register syntax.

Appendix A: Summary of Delaware 2015 CFSR Performance

* Risk-Standardized Performance (RSP) is derived from a multi-level statistical model and reflects the state's performance relative to states with similar children and takes into account the number of children the state served, the age distribution of these children, and, for some indicators, the state's entry rate. It uses risk-adjustment to minimize differences in outcomes due to factors over which the state has little control and provides a more fair comparison of state performance against national performance.

 95% Confidence Interval is the 95% confidence interval estimate for the state's RSP. The values shown are the lower RSP and upper RSP of the interval estimate. The interval accounts for the amount of uncertainty associated with the RSP. For example, the CB is 95% confident that the true value of the RSP is between the lower and upper limit of the interval.

 Data Period(s) Used for State Performance: Refers to the initial 12-month period and the period(s) of data needed to follow the children to observe their outcomes. The FY or federal fiscal year refers to NCANDS data, which spans the 12-month period October 1 – September 30. All other periods refer to AFCARS data. "A" refers to the 6-month period October 1 – March 31. "B" refers to the 6-month period April 1 – September 30. The 2-digit year refers to the calendar year in which the period ends.

Appendix B: Delaware 2007 CFSR Key Findings

Appendix B

Summary of CFSR Round 2 DELAWARE 2007 Key Findings

The Children's Bureau conducted a CFSR in Delaware in 2007. Key findings from that review are presented below. Because the Children's Bureau made several changes to the CFSR process and items and indicators relevant for performance based on lessons learned during the second round and in response to feedback from the child welfare field, a state's performance in the third round of the CFSR is not directly comparable to its performance in the second round.
