Final Report: Texas Child and Family Services Review

INTRODUCTION

This document presents the findings of the Child and Family Services Review (CFSR) for the state of Texas. The CFSRs enable the Children's Bureau to: (1) ensure conformity with certain federal child welfare requirements; (2) determine what is actually happening to children and families as they are engaged in child welfare services; and (3) assist states in enhancing their capacity to help children and families achieve positive outcomes. Federal law and regulations authorize the Children's Bureau, within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Administration for Children and Families, to administer the review of child and family services programs under titles IV-B and IV-E of the Social Security Act. The CFSRs are structured to help states identify strengths and areas needing improvement in their child welfare practices and programs as well as institute systemic changes that will improve child and family outcomes.

The findings for Texas are based on:

- The statewide assessment prepared by the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services (DFPS) and submitted to the Children's Bureau on February 1, 2016. The statewide assessment is the state's analysis of its performance on outcomes, and the functioning of systemic factors in relation to title IV-B and IV-E requirements and the title IV-B Child and Family Services Plan
- The results of case reviews of 180 cases (108 foster care and 72 in-home cases) conducted via a State Conducted Case Review process in Lubbock, Abilene, Arlington, Tyler, Beaumont, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Midland, El Paso, and Edinburg, Texas, between May 23, 2016, and July 1, 2016
- Interviews and focus groups with state stakeholders and partners, which included:
 - Attorneys representing the agency
 - Child welfare agency senior managers, including the commissioner, director of system improvement, regional directors, and program managers
 - Child welfare supervisors and caseworkers
 - Foster and adoptive parents and relative caregivers
 - Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children staff
 - IV-E waiver staff
 - Parents, parent collaboration groups, and fatherhood representatives
 - Service providers
 - Tribal representatives
 - Youth served by the agency

Texas 2016 CFSR Final Report

In Round 3, the Children's Bureau suspended the use of the state's performance on national standards for the 7 statewide data indicators in conformity decisions. For contextual information, Appendix A of this report shows the state's performance on the 7 data indicators. Moving forward, the Children's Bureau will refer to the national standards as "national performance." This national performance represents the performance of the nation on the statewide data indicators for an earlier point in time. For the time periods used to calculate the national performance for each indicator, see 80 Fed. Reg. 27263 (May 13, 2015).

Background Information

The Round 3 CFSR assesses state performance with regard to substantial conformity with 7 child and family outcomes and 7 systemic factors. Each outcome incorporates 1 or more of the 18 items included in the case review, and each item is rated as a Strength or Area Needing Improvement based on an evaluation of certain child welfare practices and processes in the cases reviewed in the state. With two exceptions, an item is assigned an overall rating of Strength if 90% or more of the applicable cases reviewed were rated as a Strength. Because Item 1 is the only item for Safety Outcome 1 and Item 16 is the only item for Well-Being Outcome 2, the requirement of a 95% Strength rating applies to those items. For a state to be in substantial conformity with a particular outcome, 95% or more of the cases reviewed must be rated as having substantially achieved the outcome.

Eighteen items are considered in assessing the state's substantial conformity with the 7 systemic factors. Each item reflects a key federal program requirement relevant to the Child and Family Services Plan (CFSP) for that systemic factor. An item is rated as a Strength or an Area Needing Improvement based on how well the item-specific requirement is functioning. A determination of the rating is based on information provided by the state to demonstrate the functioning of the systemic factor in the statewide assessment and, as needed, from interviews with stakeholders and partners. For a state to be in substantial conformity with the systemic factors, no more than 1 of the items associated with the systemic factor can be rated as an Area Needing Improvement. For systemic factors that have only 1 item associated with them, that item must be rated as a Strength for a determination of substantial conformity.

The Children's Bureau made several changes to the CFSR process and items and indicators relevant for performance based on lessons learned during the second round of reviews and in response to feedback from the child welfare field. As such, a state's performance in the third round of the CFSRs is not directly comparable to its performance in the second round. Appendix A provides tables presenting Texas's overall performance in Round 3. Appendix B provides information about Texas's performance in Round 2.

I. SUMMARY OF PERFORMANCE

Texas 2016 CFSR Assessment of Substantial Conformity for Outcomes and Systemic Factors

None of the 7 outcomes was found to be in substantial conformity.

The following 3 of 7 systemic factors were found to be in substantial conformity:

- Statewide Information System
- Quality Assurance System
- Agency Responsiveness to the Community

Children's Bureau Comments on Texas Performance

The following are the Children's Bureau's observations about cross-cutting issues and Texas's overall performance:

After external reviews by the Stephens Group and the Texas Sunset Commission, the DFPS collaborated with stakeholders on a "transformation" effort focused on child safety, permanency, and well-being; effective program operations; and staff turnover and training. DFPS recently developed and began implementation of systemic improvements that included overhauling Child Protective Services (CPS) caseworker and supervisor training programs, amending contracts with foster care providers, implementing the Child and Adolescent Needs and Strengths Assessments (CANS) to assess children's service needs upon removal, and implementing an alternative response system. Challenges with implementing these systems improvements were identified during the CFSR stakeholder interviews.

In preparation for the CFSR, DFPS dedicated resources to its State Conducted Case Review. This afforded the state the opportunity to conduct its own case review during the CFSR and created the potential to measure improvement. Although DFPS was approved to conduct its own review, and has successfully managed required sampling and time frames, CB raised numerous concerns regarding the quality of the state's self-assessment of its case practices and the accuracy of case ratings.

Cross-cutting concerns identified during the review include continued high rates of caseworker turnover, backlogged investigations, and a lack of placement resources. Stakeholders identified barriers to assuring child safety and expediting permanency that included a growing number of reports of child maltreatment, an increasing number of children in foster care, and a lack of resources to manage the backlog of pending investigations. Resource constraints and an insufficient array of appropriate services appear to have negatively affected performance on some of the outcomes.

Case review results identified areas of concern pertaining to assessing and managing safety and risk. A significant number of in-home cases reviewed involved a reliance on Parental Child Safety Placements (PCSP) during the investigation stage to avoid foster care placements. The use of PCSP often results in needed services not being provided to the children, parents, and caregivers. In many of these cases, either the children eventually enter foster care or the case is closed with tenuous permanency for the children and a lack of positive outcomes for the families. The case reviews also identified delays in the transfer of cases from the investigation stage to ongoing services. This transfer delay results in delays in services provided to families and children. In some cases where domestic violence is identified, a lack of assessment and provision of safety services affects safety outcomes.

Engaging and working with parents and caregivers is critical to maintaining safety, achieving permanency, helping the child maintain connections, and promoting child and family well-being. Review results found challenges for the agency in making concerted efforts to support positive relationships between the child in foster care and his or her parents; assessing the needs of parents and providing appropriate services; and ensuring that the frequency and quality of visits between caseworkers and parents are sufficient to meet family needs. A lack of concerted efforts to locate parents or to work with parents who are incarcerated or are resistant to being involved in case planning contributed to areas needing improvement, as did a lack of agency assistance to parents in accessing services.

The case review results identified areas needing improvement in the items related to setting appropriate goals for children in foster care and achieving permanency. The DFPS does not routinely focus on the most appropriate goal for the child's circumstances. Children are placed with relatives with guardianship as the goal, without considering other goals, such as adoption by the relative. Often, custody is transferred to a relative without guardianship assistance payments or other supports. The process of selecting a permanency goal appears driven by the need to comply with time frames set by state laws and policies, rather than consideration of the child's best interests. Case review results showed poor performance in achieving all types of permanency goals. In some cases, the goal of another planned permanent living arrangement is used for youth rather than exploring the appropriateness of other permanency goals, such as guardianship or adoption. Permanency outcomes for these youth are especially poor.

The practice of "pleading in the alternative" for termination of parental rights (TPR) at the initial filing for legal custody resulted in all cases reviewed showing timely filing of TPR petitions. However, the early TPR filings do not result in timely achievement of TPR and adoption because the date that the agency moves forward in the courts with TPR is actually later. The agency does not begin to recruit, process, or approve an adoptive home for the child later in the case, after a goal of adoption has been established.

Parental substance abuse was identified as a reason for agency involvement with the family in a majority of the cases reviewed. In these cases minimal substance abuse services were provided and often drug-testing parents was the primary service or intervention. Over-reliance on drug testing was identified as a barrier to reunification as was the lack of substance abuse services for parents and youth, and long waiting lists, particularly in rural areas.

The review identified areas where practice is improving and results are stronger. DFPS makes good efforts to locate and secure relative placements for children who are removed and placed in out-of-home care and has implemented a guardianship financial assistance program. While this program is available, it requires relatives to become certified as a licensed foster home. Frequently the custody is transferred, thus limiting the provision of services to relatives. In the cases reviewed, approximately one-half of the children in DFPS custody were placed with relatives.

Case review results showed stronger performance in agency coordination of children's basic educational needs and physical health needs, including stronger performance in providing oversight for psychotropic medication through the use of Star Health, its procedural infrastructure, and subject matter experts, including nurses, in each region of the state.

Texas 2016 CFSR Final Report

The systemic factors of Statewide Information System, Quality Assurance System, and Agency Responsiveness to the Community were all found to be functioning in substantial conformity. The Children's Bureau believes that with these systems in place and functioning, DFPS capacity for data analysis, combined with a functioning continuous quality improvement (CQI) system, can be leveraged to address other program areas and outcomes that need improvement. DFPS engagement of key stakeholders who share responsibility for system improvement and strategic planning will be critical to the success of ongoing work.

II. KEY FINDINGS RELATED TO OUTCOMES

For each outcome, we provide performance summaries from the case review findings. The CFSR relies upon a case review of an approved sample of foster care cases and in-home services cases. Where relevant, we provide performance summaries that are differentiated between foster care and in-home services cases.

This report provides an overview. Results have been rounded to the nearest whole number. Details on each case rating are available to DFPS. The state is encouraged to conduct additional item-specific analysis of the case review findings to better understand areas of practice that are associated with positive outcomes and those that need improvement.

Safety Outcome 1: Children are, first and foremost, protected from abuse and neglect.

The Children's Bureau calculates the state's performance on Safety Outcome 1 using the state's performance on Item 1.

State Outcome Performance

Texas is not in substantial conformity with Safety Outcome 1.

The outcome was substantially achieved in 63% of the 73 applicable cases reviewed.

Safety Outcome 1 Item Performance

Item 1. Timeliness of Initiating Investigations of Reports of Child Maltreatment

Purpose of Assessment: To determine whether responses to all accepted child maltreatment reports received during the period under review were initiated, and face-to-face contact with the child(ren) made, within the time frames established by agency policies or state statutes.

State policy requires that accepted reports be assigned to one of two priority levels based on the assessment of the immediacy of the risk and the severity of the possible harm to the child. Priority I reports concern children who appear to face an immediate risk of abuse or neglect that could result in death or serious harm. Priority II reports are all other reports of abuse or neglect that are not assigned as Priority I. Subject to the availability of funds, CPS responds immediately to Priority I reports that involve circumstances in which the death of the child or substantial bodily harm to the child will imminently result unless DFPS immediately intervenes. DFPS responds within 24 hours to other Priority I reports. DFPS responds to Priority II reports within 72 hours by initiating an investigation or by forwarding the report to specialized screening staff.

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 1 because 63% of the 73 applicable cases were rated as a Strength.

III. KEY FINDINGS RELATED TO SYSTEMIC FACTORS

For each systemic factor below, we provide performance summaries and a determination of whether the state is in substantial conformity with that systemic factor. In addition, we provide ratings for each item and a description of how the rating was determined. The CFSR relies upon a review of information contained in the statewide assessment to assess each item. If an item rating cannot be determined from the information contained in the statewide assessment, the Children's Bureau conducts stakeholder interviews and considers information gathered through the interviews in determining ratings for each item.

Statewide Information System

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Item 19.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Texas is in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Statewide Information System. The one item in this systemic factor was rated as a Strength.

Statewide Information System Item Performance

Item 19. Statewide Information System

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The statewide information system is functioning statewide to ensure that, at a minimum, the state can readily identify the status, demographic characteristics, location, and goals for the placement of every child who is (or, within the immediately preceding 12 months, has been) in foster care.

- Texas received an overall rating of Strength for Item 19 based on information from the statewide assessment.
- In the statewide assessment, Texas reported that the statewide information system, Information Management Protecting Adults and Children in Texas (IMPACT), is fully functional statewide and can identify the status, demographic characteristics, location, and goals for every child who is (or within the immediately preceding 12 months, has been) in foster care. Additional information in the statewide assessment confirmed that the IMPACT serves as the case record and provides timely tracking of the relevant information. Monitoring processes at the regional and statewide levels reconcile timely data entry and identify and correct errors.

Case Review System

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 20, 21, 22, 23, and 24.

Texas 2016 CFSR Final Report

State Systemic Factor Performance

Texas is not in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Case Review System. Three of the 5 items in this systemic factor were rated as a Strength.

Case Review System Item Performance

Item 20. Written Case Plan

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning statewide to ensure that each child has a written case plan that is developed jointly with the child's parent(s) and includes the required provisions.

- Texas received an overall rating of Strength for Item 20 based on information from the statewide assessment.
- Information and data in the statewide assessment showed that written case plans are jointly developed with the child's parents according to the required provisions and in place in almost all cases. An initiative is in place to implement a case planning meeting for every service plan for every child in care on the child's 45th day in care, with subsequent reviews planned for every 90 days thereafter.

Item 21. Periodic Reviews

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning statewide to ensure that a periodic review for each child occurs no less frequently than once every 6 months, either by a court or by administrative review.

- Texas received an overall rating of Strength for Item 21 based on information from the statewide assessment.
- Information in the statewide assessment showed that an initial periodic review is held no later than 180 days after the date the court renders a temporary order appointing the department as the temporary managing conservator of a child. Subsequent hearings are then held no later than 120 days after the date of the last permanency hearing.

Item 22. Permanency Hearings

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning statewide to ensure that each child has a permanency hearing in a qualified court or administrative body that occurs no later than 12 months from the date the child entered foster care and no less frequently than every 12 months thereafter.

- Texas received an overall rating of Strength for Item 22 based on information from the statewide assessment.
- Data provided in the statewide assessment showed that permanency hearings are occurring no later than 12 months from the date the child entered foster care and no less frequently than every 12 months thereafter.

Item 23. Termination of Parental Rights

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning statewide to ensure that the filing of termination of parental rights proceedings occurs in accordance with required provisions.

Texas 2016 CFSR Final Report

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 23 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews, the case review system does not ensure that the filing of termination of parental rights (TPR) proceedings occurs in accordance with required provisions. The practice of filing a TPR petition by pleading in the alternative at the initial filing for removal does not meet the requirements that a state files or joins a petition to TPR when a child has been in care for 15 of 22 months, absent exceptions and/or compelling reasons to do so. Information from the statewide assessment and collected during interviews with stakeholders showed the state's practice of pleading in the alternative for TPR petitions is largely perfunctory and does not represent agency intent to move forward in the courts. It does not represent an action made in the best interests of children to develop a permanent plan of adoption. The agency actually files for TPR in court at a later date, and it may or may not be prior to the 15 of 22 months in care.

Item 24. Notice of Hearings and Reviews to Caregivers

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The case review system is functioning to ensure that foster parents, pre-adoptive parents, and relative caregivers of children in foster care are notified of, and have a right to be heard in, any review or hearing held with respect to the child.

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 24. Findings were determined based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information provided in the statewide assessment indicated that foster/adoptive parents and relative caregivers are not always notified of court hearings, and no systems are in place to track this notification. In interviews, stakeholders noted concerns regarding the ability of caregivers to exercise their right to be heard in court hearings.

Quality Assurance System

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Item 25.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Texas is in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Quality Assurance System. The one item in this systemic factor was rated as a Strength.

Quality Assurance System Item Performance

Item 25. Quality Assurance System

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The quality assurance system is functioning statewide to ensure that it (1) is operating in the jurisdictions where the services included in the Child and Family Services Plan (CFSP) are provided, (2) has standards to evaluate the quality of services (including standards to ensure that children in foster care are provided quality services that protect their health and safety), (3) identifies strengths and needs of the service delivery system, (4) provides relevant reports, and (5) evaluates implemented program improvement measures.

- Texas received an overall rating of Strength for Item 25 based on information from the statewide assessment.
- Information from the statewide assessment showed that the Texas quality assurance (QA) system is functioning statewide and operating in all the regions. The Division of Accountability uses an instrument based on the CFSR that includes standards to evaluate the quality of services and identifies strengths and needs of the service delivery system. Case review results are used in conjunction with aggregate data. The process provides relevant reports and evaluation of some implemented program improvement. Although DFPS has a strong QA infrastructure, concerns were noted during the state conducted review about the lack of rating consistency with federal expectations for CFSR purposes.

Staff and Provider Training

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 26, 27, and 28.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Texas is not in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Staff and Provider Training. One of the items in this systemic factor was rated as a Strength.

Staff and Provider Training Item Performance

Item 26. Initial Staff Training

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The staff and provider training system is functioning statewide to ensure that initial training is provided to all staff who deliver services pursuant to the CFSP that includes the basic skills and knowledge required for their positions.

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 26 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews noted that new caseworker training in place prior to 2015 did not provide the knowledge and skills to staff to enable them to effectively perform their job duties. As part of the agency's transformation efforts, DFPS redesigned and implemented new caseworker training in 2015. Given the length of time the new training has been in effect, there was limited data and information available other than satisfaction survey results. These survey results were positive. DFPS noted in the statewide assessment that the evaluation of the new worker training model would not be available until the end of 2016. Stakeholders were optimistic with the redesigned field-based training but expressed concerns about the availability of mentors to sustain the redesigned training, given the mentors' other full-time duties. DFPS continues to evaluate the functioning of the new training approach with their policy and practice model and resource allocations.

Texas 2016 CFSP Final Report

Item 27. Ongoing Staff Training

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The staff and provider training system is functioning statewide to ensure that ongoing training is provided for staff⁶ that addresses the skills and knowledge base needed to carry out their duties with regard to the services included in the CFSP.

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 27 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information in the statewide assessment and collected during interviews with stakeholders did not confirm that ongoing training to enhance caseworker and supervisor skills and knowledge is consistently provided. Caseworker certification training is a voluntary program. Workloads, the location of the trainings, and other required trainings limit caseworkers' and supervisors' ability to attend the numerous specialized classes offered.

Item 28. Foster and Adoptive Parent Training

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The staff and provider training system is functioning statewide to ensure that training is occurring statewide for current or prospective foster parents, adoptive parents, and staff of state licensed or approved facilities (that care for children receiving foster care or adoption assistance under title IV-E) that addresses the skills and knowledge base needed to carry out their duties with regard to foster and adopted children.

- Texas received an overall rating of Strength for Item 28 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information in the statewide assessment and collected during interviews with stakeholders showed that the staff and provider training system is functioning statewide to ensure training is occurring statewide for prospective foster parents, adoptive parents, and staff of state licensed or approved facilities. The state requires 35 hours of pre-service training and ongoing training for foster parents. All foster parents must have trauma-informed training before becoming certified/verified and annually thereafter. Most foster care placements are contracted with child-placing and residential agencies in Texas. DFPS monitors a percentage of the child-placing contracts each year.

Service Array and Resource Development

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 29 and 30.

⁶ "Staff," for purposes of assessing this item, includes all contracted and non-contracted staff who have case management responsibilities in the areas of child protection services, family preservation and support services, foster care services, adoption services, and independent living services pursuant to the state's CFSP. "Staff" also includes direct supervisors of all contracted and non-contracted staff who have case management responsibilities in the areas of child protection services, family preservation and support services, foster care services, adoption services, and independent living services pursuant to the state's CFSP.

Texas 2016 CFSR Final Report

State Systemic Factor Performance

Texas is not in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Service Array and Resource Development. None of the items in this systemic factor was rated as a Strength.

Service Array and Resource Development Item Performance

Item 29. Array of Services

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The service array and resource development system is functioning to ensure that the following array of services is accessible in all political jurisdictions covered by the CFSP: (1) services that assess the strengths and needs of children and families and determine other service needs, (2) services that address the needs of families in addition to individual children in order to create a safe home environment, (3) services that enable children to remain safely with their parents when reasonable, and (4) services that help children in foster and adoptive placements achieve permanency.

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 29 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information from the statewide assessment and collected during interviews with stakeholders confirmed that the state does not have an adequate array of services accessible to children and families in all jurisdictions of the state. Significant differences were reported between services offered in the metro areas and those available within the rural areas of the state. Gaps in services or waitlists were noted in the following areas: transportation, mental health services, domestic violence services, housing for youth transitioning out of care, independent living services, services for children and parents who have developmental delays, services to families providing kinship care services, in-home services to meet identified safety-related issues and other identified family needs, substance abuse services, and services for families whose first language is not English.

Item 30. Individualizing Services

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The service array and resource development system is functioning statewide to ensure that the services in Item 29 can be individualized to meet the unique needs of children and families served by the agency.

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 30 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.

Texas 2016 CFSR Final Report

- Information from the statewide assessment and confirmed in stakeholder interviews showed that although improvements have been seen in parts of the state, the state does not consistently ensure that services are being individualized to meet the unique needs of children and families. Stakeholders said that service plans are usually not individualized to ensure tailored services, specifically services for the safety of children remaining in the home, mental health, substance abuse, domestic violence, children with special needs, and services for families for whom English is a second language.

Agency Responsiveness to the Community

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 31 and 32.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Texas is in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Agency Responsiveness to the Community. Both items in this systemic factor were rated as a Strength.

Agency Responsiveness to the Community Item Performance

Item 31. State Engagement and Consultation With Stakeholders Pursuant to CFSP and APSR

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The agency responsiveness to the community system is functioning statewide to ensure that, in implementing the provisions of the CFSP and developing related APSRs, the state engages in ongoing consultation with Tribal representatives, consumers, service providers, foster care providers, the juvenile court, and other public and private child- and family-serving agencies and includes the major concerns of these representatives in the goals, objectives, and annual updates of the CFSP.

- Texas received an overall rating of Strength for Item 31 based on information from the statewide assessment.
- Information in the statewide assessment showed notable improvement by DFPS in the last several years regarding engagement and including community partners and parents as part of the Transformation Initiative. DFPS involves youth through the Youth Leadership Council and by employing former foster youth as Youth Specialists in every region to further engage youth and obtain input. The statewide assessment reports that the majority of the state has Child Advocacy Centers and strong working relationships with the Tribal Communities. The Children's Commission, which includes the courts, has held interactive forums over the past few years with a focus on the systemic factors of Case Review System, Service Array, and Foster Parent Licensing and Retention. Key community members were actively involved in these sessions and information from these sessions was used as a foundational element in development of the state's CFSP.

Item 32. Coordination of CFSP Services With Other Federal Programs

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The agency responsiveness to the community system is functioning statewide to ensure that the state's services under the CFSP are coordinated with services or benefits of other federal or federally assisted programs serving the same population.

Texas 2016 CFSR Final Report

- Texas received an overall rating of Strength for Item 32 based on information from the statewide assessment.
- The statewide assessment included specific examples that demonstrate how the state coordinates services or benefits with other federal or federally assisted programs serving the same population. Examples include coordination with the Children's Commission, Department of State Health Services, and Office of Court Administration.

Foster and Adoptive Parent Licensing, Recruitment, and Retention

The Children's Bureau assesses the state's performance on this systemic factor using the state's performance on Items 33, 34, 35, and 36.

State Systemic Factor Performance

Texas is not in substantial conformity with the systemic factor of Foster and Adoptive Parent Licensing, Recruitment, and Retention. One of the four items in this systemic factor was rated as a Strength.

Foster and Adoptive Parent Licensing, Recruitment, and Retention Item Performance

Item 33. Standards Applied Equally

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention system is functioning statewide to ensure that state standards are applied to all licensed or approved foster family homes or child care institutions receiving title IV-B or IV-E funds.

- Texas received an overall rating of Strength for Item 33 based on information from the statewide assessment.
- Information in the statewide assessment showed that the state conducts home visits to foster and adoptive homes on a monthly basis and that DFPS holds all licensed caregivers and facilities to the same standards. Waiver and variance requests, as well as the number granted and denied, are monitored monthly. Data in the statewide assessment showed that requests for waivers were infrequent.

Item 34. Requirements for Criminal Background Checks

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention system is functioning statewide to ensure that the state complies with federal requirements for criminal background clearances as related to licensing or approving foster care and adoptive placements and has in place a case planning process that includes provisions for addressing the safety of foster care and adoptive placements for children.

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 34 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information in the statewide assessment instrument showed that DFPS conducts a large number of public safety and FBI background checks for licensing purposes and that the state has taken several measures over the last few years to ensure continued compliance with federal requirements for background checks for foster and adoptive homes. The DFPS IMPACT system automatically launches a Department of Public Safety name-based criminal check during the initial foster and adoptive parent licensing/approval process. Stakeholders reported concerns regarding the safety of children being housed temporarily in offices or hotels because the state is unable to find approved foster care placements.

Item 35. Diligent Recruitment of Foster and Adoptive Homes

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention system is functioning to ensure that the process for ensuring the diligent recruitment of potential foster and adoptive families who reflect the ethnic and racial diversity of children in the state for whom foster and adoptive homes are needed is occurring statewide.

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 35 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Information in the statewide assessment and collected during interviews with stakeholders described state supported and monitored faith-based and regional efforts to recruit foster and adoptive parents who reflect the ethnic and racial diversity of children for whom foster and adoptive homes are needed. However, stakeholders said that the state does not have an adequate pool of homes to meet placement needs in specific regions or counties and cannot ensure that all children for whom foster and adoptive homes are needed have sufficient homes available statewide.

Item 36. State Use of Cross-Jurisdictional Resources for Permanent Placements

Description of Systemic Factor Item: The foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention system is functioning to ensure that the process for ensuring the effective use of cross-jurisdictional resources to facilitate timely adoptive or permanent placements for waiting children is occurring statewide.

- Texas received an overall rating of Area Needing Improvement for Item 36 based on information from the statewide assessment and stakeholder interviews.
- Data and information provided in the statewide assessment instrument and stakeholder interviews showed some concerns with the effective use of cross-jurisdictional resources to facilitate timely adoptive or permanent placements for waiting children. Data and information from interviews identified barriers in approving homes for waiting children. The state is not completing home studies within the 60-day requirement and often exceeds the time frame by several months. The state has no tracking system to account for the home studies, which can remain in the field offices in some regions within the state for up to a year without any activity.

I. Ratings for Safety, Permanency, and Well-Being Outcomes and Items

Outcome Achievement: Outcomes may be rated as in substantial conformity or not in substantial conformity. 95% of the applicable cases reviewed must be rated as having substantially achieved the outcome for the state to be in substantial conformity with the outcome.

For an overall rating of Strength, 90% of the cases reviewed for the item (with the exception of Item 1 and Item 16) must be rated as a Strength. Because Item 1 is the only item for Safety Outcome 1 and Item 16 is the only item for Well-Being Outcome 2, the requirement of a 95% Strength rating applies.

II. Ratings for Systemic Factors

The Children’s Bureau determines whether a state is in substantial conformity with federal requirements for the 7 systemic factors based on the level of functioning of each systemic factor across the state. The Children’s Bureau determines substantial conformity with the systemic factors based on ratings for the item or items within each factor. Performance on 5 of the 7 systemic factors is determined on the basis of ratings for multiple items or plan requirements. For a state to be found in substantial conformity with these systemic factors, the Children’s Bureau must find that no more than 1 of the required items for that systemic factor fails to function as required. For a state to be found in substantial conformity with the 2 systemic factors that are determined based on the rating of a single item, the Children’s Bureau must find that the item is functioning as required.

III. Performance on Statewide Data Indicators⁷

The state's performance is considered against the national performance for each statewide data indicator and provides contextual information for considering the findings. This information is not used in conformity decisions. State performance may be statistically above, below, or no different than the national performance. If a state did not provide the required data or did not meet the applicable item data quality limits, the Children's Bureau did not calculate the state's performance for the statewide data indicator.

⁷ In October 2016, the Children's Bureau issued Technical Bulletin #9 (<http://www.acf.hhs.gov/cb/resource/cfsr-technical-bulletin-9>), which alerted states to the fact that there were technical errors in the syntax used to calculate the national and state performance for the statewide data indicators. The syntax revision is still underway, so performance shown in this table is based on the 2015 Federal Register syntax.

Appendix A: Summary of Texas 2016 CFSR Performance

Statewide Data Indicator	National Performance	Direction of Desired Performance	RSP*	95% Confidence Interval	Data Periods Used for State Performance
Recurrence of maltreatment	9.1%	Lower	7.3%	7.1%–7.6%	FY13–14
Maltreatment in foster care (victimizations per 100,000 days in care)	8.50	Lower	8.72	8.08–9.4	14A–14B, FY14
Permanency in 12 months for children entering foster care	40.5%	Higher	36.9%	36.2%–37.7%	12B–15A
Permanency in 12 months for children in foster care 12-23 months	43.6%	Higher	53.4%	52.3%–54.4%	14B–15A
Permanency in 12 months for children in foster care 24 months or more	30.3%	Higher	29.6%	28.6%–30.6%	14B–15A
Re-entry to foster care in 12 months	8.3%	Lower	4.4%	3.8%–5.1%	12B–15A
Placement stability (moves per 1,000 days in care)	4.12	Lower	4.07	4.00–4.14	14B–15A

* Risk-Standardized Performance (RSP) is derived from a multi-level statistical model and reflects the state's performance relative to states with similar children and takes into account the number of children the state served, the age distribution of these children, and, for some indicators, the state's entry rate. It uses risk-adjustment to minimize differences in outcomes due to factors over which the state has little control and provides a more fair comparison of state performance against national performance.

 95% Confidence Interval is the 95% confidence interval estimate for the state's RSP. The values shown are the lower RSP and upper RSP of the interval estimate. The interval accounts for the amount of uncertainty associated with the RSP. For example, the CB is 95% confident that the true value of the RSP is between the lower and upper limit of the interval.

 Data Period(s) Used for State Performance: Refers to the initial 12-month period and the period(s) of data needed to follow the children to observe their outcomes. The FY or federal fiscal year refers to NCANDS data, which spans the 12-month period October 1 – September 30. All other periods refer to AFCARS data. "A" refers to the 6-month period October 1 – March 31. "B" refers to the 6-month period April 1 – September 30. The 2-digit year refers to the calendar year in which the period ends.

Appendix B: Texas 2008 CF SR Key Findings

Appendix B Summary of CF SR Round 2 Texas 2008 Key Findings

The Children's Bureau conducted a CF SR in Texas in 2008. Key findings from that review are presented below. Because the Children's Bureau made several changes to the CF SR process and items and indicators relevant for performance based on lessons learned during the second round and in response to feedback from the child welfare field, a state's performance in the third round of the CF SR is not directly comparable to its performance in the second round.
